JOHN BALL ZOO

Ethogram: a catalog of all the different kinds of behavior observed in an animal

To research your chosen species, fill out the headings in the form below. Use a stopwatch and tick the behaviors observed at 30 second intervals.

Name(s) of Observers	Date	Study Species
Weather	Time	Study Individual (Name or Identifying Features)
Notes (Number of guests present, enrichment available, feeding time, etc.)

Time (30 seconds)	Behaviors (Fill in the headings below with appropriate behaviors for your study species. Examples include walking, swimming, climbing, eating, etc.)								Notes
0:30
1:00
1:30
2:00
2:30
3:00
3:30
4:00
4:30
5:00
5:30
6:00
6:30
7:00
7:30
8:00
8:30
9:00
9:30
10:00
Total									